Nigel N. T. Li received LL.M. degrees from Harvard in 1983 and National Taiwan University in 1980 after obtaining his LL.B. degree from Soochow University in 1977. In addition to his role as a practicing attorney specializing in dispute resolution and arbitration, media law, human and civil rights, international litigation and constitutional law, he is also an adjunct professor at both the Graduate School of Law of Soochow University and the Department of Political Science of National Taiwan University. He teaches Constitutional Law, Human Rights, ADR and International Arbitration.

As Chairman of the Chinese Arbitration Association, Taipei from 2007 to 2014, Nigel was instrumental in raising the quality of transnational arbitration and enhancing cross-Taiwan Strait and international exchanges. He is also registered as an arbitrator of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre and the China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission.

Nigel is steadfast in his commitment to pro bono work. He was President of the Taipei Bar Association and sat on the Board of the Judicial Reform Foundation. His determination to preserve human rights and justice drove and sustained him in numerous cases applying for the Grand Justices' interpretation of the Constitution and his appointment as a Member of the Presidential Advisory Committee on Human Rights.
